

Dydd Mawrth 21 Mai.

Rapidly ~~two~~ guinea pigs, Salt and Pepper were chasing another called Ketchup, into the car park of petco. It was bigger than big itself. They approached it slowly. In front of them I had a guard cat at the door with a sign sign "Watch out Guard cat! Hdy, would they ever find Ketchup with this Merce in the hdy?"

As they both stood there they knew they had to break into the store. They thought of many plans to try to get past the guard cat including using hdy as a trap. All out of her bag. This was their chance. It was now or never!

Salt threw the ball of wool in front of the guard cat. It jumped with joy and chased it. In an instant the two guinea pigs sprinted into the store. They were amazed with fear and shock. This place must have had over one hundred shelves of human devices! There were human transporter boxes, food laser guns that shot food and making carpets. There were also sharp looking weapons. They hoped the humans wouldn't be there against them!

Meanwhile Ketchup saw a toilet. He wanted to block it to flood the store. He picked up a packet of human ketchup and attempted to throw it down the toilet. Suddenly

A human came in. Dropped his trousers. Began to st. sit. And must have been the end for Ketchup...

Salt and pepper Searched for Ketchup furiously! They Searched the whole Shop up and down, looking on every Shelf. Suddenly they found Ketchup grumpily Salt in an upstairs corner. A human was shouting aggressively at Ketchup. Was shouting for him?

Salt and pepper quickly grabbed Ketchup and sprinted away. The two terrified guinea pigs sighed at Ketchup. To their surprise he apologized sadly for his mistakes. Pepper A tear silently down his sorrowful cheek. Pepper patted him and said, "Sorrowful are a selfish and good for nothing but I still love you."
